MEDIA RELEASE

SSAB Brings Christmas Cheer to Children at SVSG Campus of Hope

30 December 2025

Apia, Samoa

Samoa Stationery and Bookshop (SSAB) once again spread Christmas joy to the children at the Samoa Victim Support Group (SVSG) Campus of Hope, continuing a long-standing tradition of giving that has touched many young lives over the years.

The visit was led by young twins Elisha and Elija, sons of SSAB CEO Tofilau Fiti Leung Wai and Aumua Ming Leung Wai. During the Christmas school holidays, the twins take on part-time work and use their personal savings to purchase toys and treats for the children at the Campus of Hope, a meaningful act of compassion that reflects the values of service and generosity instilled within the SSAB family.

This annual gesture has become a cherished tradition for SSAB, demonstrating that giving back starts at a young age and that small acts of kindness can make a lasting impact. The children at the Campus of Hope warmly welcomed the twins and the SSAB team, enjoying a festive atmosphere filled with smiles, gifts, and heartfelt connection.

SVSG acknowledges SSAB as one of its long-standing supporting partners, whose continued support over the years has contributed positively to the wellbeing and happiness of children under SVSG care.

President Siliniu showed great joy “The act of kindness shown by Elisha and Elija, saving from their own holiday work to give to other children is truly inspiring. It reflects values of compassion, responsibility, and generosity that we strive to promote through our work at SVSG. We are deeply thankful to SSAB for nurturing this spirit of giving and for their long-standing support of the Campus of Hope.”

Samoa Victim Support Group extends its sincere gratitude to SSAB, the Leung Wai family, and especially to Elisha and Elija, for reminding our community of the true spirit of Christmas love, generosity, and compassion for others.
